Locally Owned & Operated

Cost

The cost of in-home care varies depending upon how many hours of service are requested. Occasional service begins at $16.00 per hour, more than 20 hours week is $15.00 per hour while 12 hour full day or overnight care can be as economical as $12.00 an hour.

Ways to Pay

In-home care is not covered by Medicare. In-home care is provided through:

- *Private pay or long-term care insurance.
- *Financial assistance available from associations who care for their members afflicted with a specific disease.
- *Veterans and their spouses who qualify for the Aid and Attendance benefit.
- *The reverse mortgage popular for seniors which makes home equity available as a financial option.
- *Life insurance policies that offer the option to sell the policy in exchange for a lump sum payment that is greater than the cash surrender value.
- *Medical Health Service pre-tax funds withheld from your payroll check by your employer.
